Based on the CBC discussion this morning and Commissioners Guzman-Aceves suggestion the Vision Statement utilize the word “right” here is my take:

CURRENT WORDING

All Californians must have access, both in their places of business and residence, to affordable, reliable, high-speed internet, devices and skills training to ensure equity – the universal ability to engage in all aspects of social and economic opportunity.

SUGGESTED WORDING

All Californians have the need and right to access, both in their places of business and residence, affordable, reliable, high-speed internet, devices and skills training to ensure equity – the universal ability to engage in all aspects of social activities and economic opportunities that will enhance their quality of life.
